Enrich your stay, add more visits and activities FEW SUGGESTIONS:

Warsaw joined the European Union on May 1st 2004. The city was ravaged by the Third Reich and colonised by the Soviet Union. Since it became Poland's capital, more than 400 years ago, it has been invaded with alarming regularity, by Russians, Prussians and even Swedes. The triumph of endurance is what makes Warsaw so idealistic and romantic. Enjoy the boom in the Polish capital before the tourist hordes arrive and prices soar.

WHAT TO SEE

THE PALACE OF CULTURE AND SCIENCES

In theory a gift from Stalin, in practice an omnipotent symbol of Soviet supremacy, this feels like an ancient relic and Cold War souvenir. Giant statues of heroic workers guard its portals. You can ride the lift up to the top floor, the view from the balcony is impressive. The ground floor of this Stalinist temple has become a palace of Western culture. The huge congress hall, once a venue for Communist party functions, now hosts Warsaw's two annual jazz festivals.

THE OLD AND NEW TOWN

Warsaw's Old Town is one of Europe's most extraordinary feats of reconstruction. The Old Town was deliberately obliterated during the world war I. The Nowe Miasto (New Town) to the north, beyond the medieval city walls, is just picturesque.

JOHN PAUL II COLLECTION

The biographies of its collectors, Janina and Zbigniew Carroll-Porczynski, are far more impressive than any famous paintings the collection houses. Both gathered nearly 400 works of major European Painters: Rubens, Rembrandt, Van Gogh and Van Dyck but the gallery is absurdly sleepy: elderly attendants follow you into each room to turn the lights on and turn them off again as you leave.

MUSIC

Warsaw's greatest artworks are melodic rather than aesthetic. Chopin made his name here and his compositions seem to echo the tragic, euphoric mood of Warsaw. There are summer recitals in Lazienki Park during the summer 2010. Tickets for the Warsaw Chamber Opera are extremely cheap.
